Tailor your PC customization services to fit your needs

HP GetMore Services for configuration and deployment

Our IT experts can provide additional customization on top of our standard services.

Extend your IT beyond your existing service offers

If you can't find a service that meets your unique needs, HP GetMore Services deliver additional customization beyond our standard portfolio of offerings. You can tailor a configuration or deployment services program that responds to your exact business objectives.

With HP GetMore Services you can ask for requirements that exceed the existing service offers. And when you submit requirements for new service areas, HP can create a service offer that meets those requirements.

Get control: HP GetMore Configuration Services

With proven governance and management methodologies, HP GetMore Configuration Services give you greater control over the entire customized PC configuration project. HP expertise enables you to customize PCs to your specific business goals.

HP GetMore Configuration Services help you:

- Address business needs through increased levels of PC customization
- Build a strategic relationship with HP as your trusted PC customization adviser
- Enjoy simple ordering and billing

HP GetMore Configuration Services are available globally on most HP commercial notebooks, workstations, thin clients with an operating system, desktops, and retail point-of-sale (RPOS) solutions.

Get collaborative: HP GetMore Deployment Services

When you're aiming for high-level customization to deliver, secure, and deploy PC units, HP GetMore Deployment Services can address your specific deployment needs. We deliver beyond our standard deployment services through collaborative project management, in which services are quoted on a case-by-case basis.

HP GetMore Deployment Services help you:

- Identify your special customization requirements
- Program manage the end-to-end lifecycle of the deal
- Order on a per-unit basis

HP GetMore Deployment Services can be bought with all commercial devices, including notebooks, tablets, desktops, thin clients, workstations, retail point-of-sale (RPOS) solutions, and attached peripherals such as monitors, docking stations, keyboards, and mice.

Why HP?

- Global reach and deployment capabilities
- Breadth and depth of services
- End-user computing focus
- Large customer base
- Shipping millions of customized PCs

Ordering HP GetMore Services

You can order HP GetMore Services with your hardware. HP will help you determine the most appropriate service based on your requirements, and then include that information in a proposed statement of work (SoW).

These services will be:

- Mutually agreed upon through the SoW provided to you by HP
- Limited to deliverables, timelines, and terms and conditions provided in the SoW
