Travel zones and charges, if applicable, may vary in some geographic locations.

Proper replacement of consumable parts is essential for your HP Designjet printer operation and print quality. That's why, when vital parts are starting to wear-down or are nearing end-of-life, your HP Designjet printer will alert you that it's time to replace the printer's maintenance kit. These alerts are designed to help you protect your investment, and ignoring them increases the risk of a malfunction or degradation in printed quality that can potentially disrupt your ongoing work.

Avoid unnecessary interruptions and safeguard your investment and warranty coverage by ordering and scheduling the HP Maintenance Kit Replacement Service as soon as you see the alert on the display panel of your HP Designjet printer. With this quick and professional service performed by an HP-trained technician, you can be confident that the kit replacement will be done properly and efficiently, with as little disruption as possible to your ongoing operation. HP will provide a fixed fee for the kit and service together, and you can schedule the service for when it best suits your work schedule. Your staff can concentrate on their core work, while the HP-trained technician expertly handles the replacement.
