Table 1. Service features

Feature	Delivery specifications
Remote problem diagnosis and support	When experiencing a problem, the Customer must first place a call to a designated support telephone number. HP will provide basic telephone technical assistance with installation, product configuration, setup, and problem resolution. Prior to scheduling a unit exchange, HP may ask the Customer to provide relevant information, start diagnostic tools, and perform other supporting activities at the request of HP.
Hardware exchange	If, in the judgment of HP, the problem cannot be resolved remotely, HP will replace the defective product or the customer-replaceable part with a product or part that is new or functionally equivalent to new in performance, but which may have minor cosmetic defects. The replaced product or part becomes the property of HP. The replacement product or part is shipped via a carrier or courier to the Customer's location free of freight charges. The Customer's requested ship-to location must not require HP to ship the replacement product or part through international customs.
Return of the defective product to HP	The Customer is responsible for returning the defective product to HP within the time specified below (see 'Customer responsibilities'), using packaging instructions, materials, and a prepaid shipping label, provided by HP together with the replacement product. HP may, at its discretion, also elect to collect a defective product at the Customer's location. For eligible products and locations, pickup by HP may be available as an optional feature.
Response time for onsite shipment	Response time for onsite shipment specifies the period of time that begins when the initial service request is received and logged with HP and ends when the replacement product arrives at the Customer's site within the coverage window. Response times are measured during the coverage window only and may be carried over to the next day for which there exists a coverage window. Response time options for onsite shipment, available for eligible products, are specified in the Service-level options table. All response times for onsite shipment are subject to local availability. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability.

Coverage window	The coverage window specifies the time during which the replacement products are delivered and remote diagnosis and support services are available. Service requests received outside this coverage window will be logged the next day for which the Customer has a service coverage window. Coverage window options, available for eligible products, are specified in the Service-level options table. All coverage windows are subject to local availability. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability.
Access to electronic support information and services	As part of this service, HP provides access to certain commercially available electronic and Web-based tools. The Customer has access to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Certain capabilities that are made available to registered users, such as downloading selected HP firmware or patches that may require additional entitlement through HP Software Support agreements, subscribing to hardware-related proactive service notifications, and participating in support forums for solving problems and sharing best practices with other registered users • Expanded Web-based searches of entitled technical support documents to facilitate faster problem-solving • Certain HP proprietary service diagnostic tools with password access • A Web-based tool for submitting questions directly to HP; the tool helps to resolve problems quickly with a pre-qualification process that routes the support or service request to the resource qualified to answer the question; the tool also allows the status of each support or service request submitted to be viewed, including cases submitted by telephone • Search of HP and third-party hosted knowledge databases for certain third-party products in order to retrieve product information, get answers to support questions, and participate in support forums; this service may be limited by third-party access restrictions

It is the Customer's responsibility to package and prepare the product appropriately for courier pickup. With this option, the Customer will not be responsible for initiating and managing the return of the defective product.

Where accidental damage protection applies, the Customer receives protection against accidental damage from handling to the covered hardware product as part of this service. Accidental damage is defined as physical damage to a product caused by or resulting from a sudden and unforeseen incident, provided such damage occurs in the course of regular use. Covered perils include non-intentional liquid spills in or on the unit, drops, falls, and electrical surge, as well as damaged or broken liquid crystal displays (LCDs) and broken parts. Coverage

Service is limited to the continental United States and selected areas of Alaska and Hawaii. Most areas within the continental United States can be serviced the next day. Add 1 to 2 days for service in Alaska and Hawaii.

Customer locations beyond 100 miles (160 km) from a primary HP support responsible office will not be eligible for 4-hour exchange service levels.

Customers may check with a local HP authorized representative to determine whether their product or location is eligible for the service.

Customer responsibilities

Upon HP request, the Customer will be required to support HP's remote problem resolution efforts. The Customer will:

- Provide all information necessary for HP to deliver timely and professional remote support and to enable HP to determine the level of support eligibility
- Start self-tests and install and run other diagnostic tools and programs
- Install customer-installable firmware updates and patches
- Perform other reasonable activities to help HP identify or resolve problems, as requested by HP

For select products, the Customer must inform HP of all configuration requirements for the replacement product prior to commencement of service and must document such configuration requirements on each service request order form.

At the time of the service request, the Customer must provide a credit card number or purchase order number to HP. If the "Pickup by HP" option has not been chosen, the Customer must ship the defective product to HP within 3 business days of receipt of the replacement product and must obtain a prepaid insurance receipt, to be retained by the Customer as proof of shipment to HP. If the defective product is not received by HP within 10 business days of the Customer's receipt of the replacement product, the Customer will be charged the replacement product's list price.

Replacement products will usually be delivered to and defective products will be picked up from the Customer's reception desk or goods reception area if the specified Customer address is a business address. The Customer must acknowledge the receipt of the replacement product by signing the freight carrier air bill at the time of delivery.

It is the Customer's responsibility to:

- Maintain a current backup copy of the operating system, development program, and all other applicable software programs and data
- Restore software and data on the unit after repair or replacement
- Install the user application software and ensure that all software is appropriately licensed

In cases where Customer Self Repair (CSR) parts or replacement products are shipped to resolve a problem, the Customer is responsible for returning the defective part or product within a time period designated by HP. In the event that HP does not receive the defective part or product within the designated time period or if the part or product is degaussed or otherwise physically damaged upon receipt, the Customer will be required to pay the HP list price less any applicable discounts for the defective part or product, as determined by HP.

For HP Care Pack services that include the accidental damage from handling service feature, it is the Customer's responsibility to report the accidental damage to HP within 30 days of the incident date so that HP can expedite system repair. HP reserves the right to deny repair under this coverage program for damages to systems on which the incident has been reported more than 30 days after the incident date. If protective items such as covers, carrying cases or pouches, etc., were provided or made available for use with the covered product, it is the Customer's responsibility to continually use these product accessories for protection against damage to the covered product.

Service limitations

At the discretion of HP, service will be provided using a combination of remote diagnosis and support, shipment of a replacement product, or other service delivery methods. Other service delivery methods may include the shipment of customer-replaceable parts, such as a keyboard, mouse, or other parts classified as CSR parts. HP will determine the appropriate delivery method required in order to provide effective and timely Customer support.

The following activities are excluded from this service:

- Diagnosis or maintenance at the Customer site (if onsite diagnosis or maintenance is required and requested, the Customer will be billed at standard HP service rates)
- Setup and installation of the replacement product at the Customer site
- Backup, recovery, and support of the operating system, other software, and data
- Troubleshooting for interconnectivity or compatibility problems
- Support for network-related problems

- Services required due to failure of the Customer to take avoidance action previously advised by HP
- User preventive maintenance

The Customer's requested ship-to or pickup location must not require HP to ship replacement or replaced products or parts through international customs.

Geographic coverage may vary.

For HP commercial and consumer products, accidental damage from handling is limited to one incident per product per 12-month period commencing from the HP Care Pack service start date.

Once the specified limit is reached, the cost of repair for any additional claims will be charged on a time-and-materials basis, but all other aspects of the HP Care Pack service purchased will remain in effect unless specifically documented otherwise in the country of purchase.
