

Welcome to your IT lifecycle strategy

HP Financial Services Asset Management

Did you know?

- In 2016, our Technology Renewal Centers around the world:
 - Processed over 2 million devices
 - Recycled over 13 million pounds of material

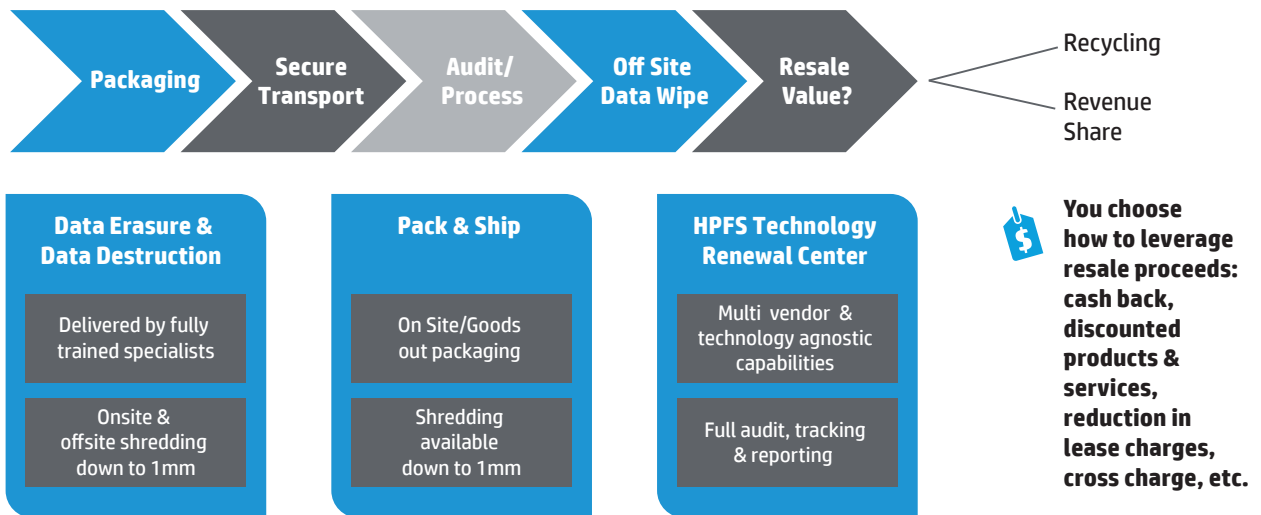

What's an IT lifecycle approach?

A customized asset management strategy developed in partnership with an expert can help you optimize the full lifecycle of your technology, from planning and implementation, to management of your assets all the way to your next refresh. An ideal plan begins well before your technology purchase - in the planning phase - to align the management of your IT infrastructure with your business needs and continues throughout the useful lifespan of your technology.

Learn how HP Financial Services can help you craft and customize your plan, and how our Technology Renewal Centers help you acquire or remarket the technology you need.

Driving the asset journey from Packaging to Removal
