Stichting Philadelphia Zorg cures print procurement

HP PageWide technology provides a cheaper, greener and more efficient approach to print

Philadelphia

Het beste uit jezelf

Stichting Philadelphia Zorg is a national healthcare provider in the Netherlands dedicated to helping people with learning disabilities. To drive efficiency across its printer estate, Stichting Philadelphia Zorg is working with OSN, an IT management and print specialist. By replacing the majority of its print fleet with 700 HP PageWide Pro devices, Stichting Philadelphia Zorg has transformed its storage of patient records from paper files to an electronic system. This has reduced costs and wastage, and made patient data safer.

Unmanageable printing network

Time-consuming and costly

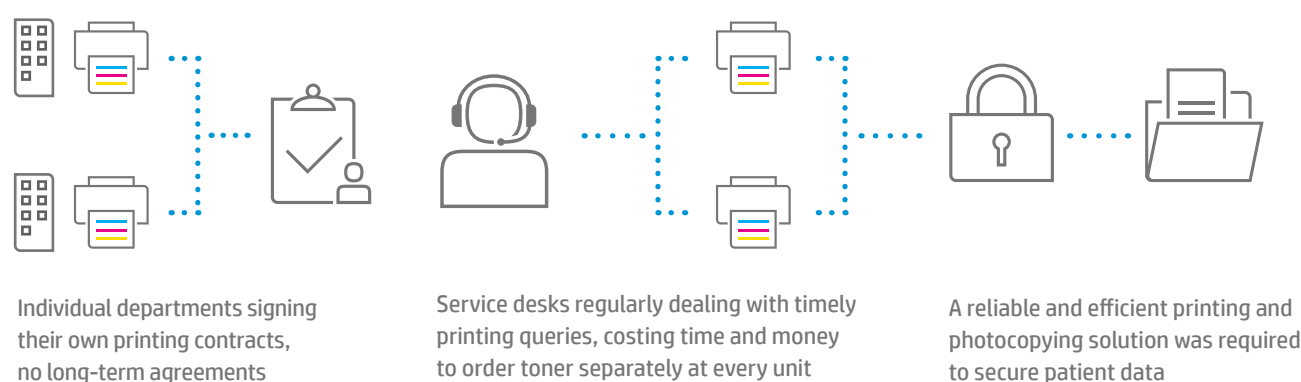

A vast array of different printer models and brands across hundreds of units, printer management and problem solving proved time-consuming and costly.

700 printers

500 locations

No centralised print provider

“Stichting Philadelphia Zorg has 500 care units and that meant we had a lot of different printer suppliers and brands. That’s why we wanted to work with one single supplier and centralise our printer fleet.”

- Lauraine van Agtmael, operational manager, Stichting Philadelphia Zorg
