

Investment solutions for your HP 3D demo equipment

HP Financial Services can help customers find new ways to plan for, acquire, consume and adapt the technology needed for workplace transformation.

Demo devices lead to increased sales opportunities and more closed transactions so they've always been a smart investment. Now you can make that strategy even smarter with a plan from HP Financial Services.

Here's how it works

- Contracts up to 15 months
- Pay a fraction of the equipment value (minimum 30%) plus interest over the course of the term; at the end of the contract period, pay a sum total payment equal to the remaining balance
- With a 15 month contract, you satisfy HP's requirement of having a 12 month demo device on site, then have an additional three months to market it before making the final, lump sum payment

Why it works

When you acquire your demo equipment on a contract with HP Financial Services, you

- Preserve your cash for other opportunities
- Avoid a large up-front cash outlay and simply make small monthly payments for up to 15 months
- Have the flexibility of acquiring new demo equipment every 12 – 15 months or simply keeping the demo you have
- Have the ability to remarket to demo to prospective clients

Get the most out of your 3D demo device without it becoming a financial strain. Talk to HP Financial Services today.
